

INTERESTED ON BECOMING A CIVIL ENGINEER IN UK ?

Scope of the event

If you are looking for an engineering career in UK , we offer you the opportunity to attend a presentation about Barhale, one of the UK's leading specialist tunneling contractors involved in world class projects.

We are also looking to share with you the experience that few of your colleagues had since moving to UK, developing as civil engineers.

About Barhale

- Barhale is one of the largest privately owned infrastructure specialists working UK-wide across the water, transport and energy waste sectors.
- Our vision is to be the best at what we do, aiming to be a market leading infrastructure services provider
